

Sterling School's Support Personnel Need Our Help!

Sterling's paraprofessionals are committed to providing quality educational services for our community's schoolchildren.

- We believe we play a critical role in the educational experience in our schools, and that additional training and development would empower us to impact even more children;
- For more than a year, the Board of Education has rejected our efforts to negotiate a fair contract that reverses the inequities our local school's support personnel face; and
- We believe the Board of Education can do much more to improve recruiting and increase retention of school support personnel by investing the resources needed to enhance our profession.

By working together as a community we believe we can continue to provide the best services possible for our children. Investing in our paraprofessionals is an investment in the education of Sterling's students.
